Mazzuchelli Musings

This week we reflect upon the Good Shepherd who says I know mine and mine know me. Jesus Christ knows each of us so personally; he knows our works, joys, and sufferings. Jesus knows what we are good at and where we struggle and he speaks to us from his heart. He speaks to us through the scriptures, through his Holy Spirit that moves our hearts in prayer, his teachings handed on to us through the Church, and through the sacramental life of the Church. Those that don't belong to his fold, he also leads. He leads them through the laws written on every heart which ultimately seeks happiness. The truths of nature can be known by reason which he has given to each human person. As we become more aware of his voice and are drawn to him we begin to desire others to know his voice and to follow him. Anytime that we speak the truth we are allowing his voice to be heard.

Jesus lays down his life for his sheep and the Father loves him because of it. This laying down of one's life is the model that he leaves for us. It is in this that we are called to follow where the Good Shepherd leads trusting that he will take up our lives again in a new and glorious way. When we have an opportunity to lay down our life by witnessing to and speaking the truth we are assured that we are loved by the Father as Jesus is loved by the Father. And through it we are brought together more deeply into the fold of Jesus Christ. We don't only smell like the sheep, we also smell like the shepherd.

Let us continue to listen attentively to the Good Shepherd's voice through reading of scripture, studying the Church's teachings, and frequent participation in the sacraments. Let us also continue to give witness to the truths of the gospel to those that we come in contact with because happiness is found in the heart of the Good Shepherd.

God bless, Fr. Greg

Catholic Corner

Fourth Sunday of Easter (Year B)—Good Shepherd Sunday

Jesus said: "I am the good shepherd. A good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. A hired man, who is not a shepherd and whose sheep are not his own, sees a wolf coming and leaves the sheep and runs away, and the wolf catches and scatters them. This is because he works for pay and has no concern for the sheep." John 10:11-13

Today, on the Fourth Sunday of Easter, we celebrate Good Shepherd Sunday. It is a day when we reflect upon the tender image of Jesus as the Shepherd of us all. It is also a day set aside to pray for more shepherds within our Church who will shepherd God's flock with the Heart of Christ.

Our Gospel today is Jesus' commentary upon the actions of the Pharisees in contrast to His own. The Pharisees, as religious leaders, were not shepherds. They were "thieves and robbers" who came to "steal and slaughter and destroy." Jesus, however, came so that those who listened to His voice "might have life and have it more abundantly."

The Gospel passage quoted above explains why the Pharisees were not true shepherds. It was because they "work for pay" and have "no concern for the sheep." Think about that statement as it applies to the Pharisees and their treatment of this man who was blind from birth. First of all, the "pay" that these Pharisees worked for was their own self importance—a fleeting and worldly reward. They saw themselves as the true teachers and interpreters of the Law and saw anyone who did not follow them as a threat. The Pharisees clearly perceived Jesus as such a threat to them. For that reason, they took their envy out on this humble and simple blind man. They were not shepherds to him. They did not encourage him, support him, point him to God or act in any way as an instrument of God's grace. Instead, they condemned this innocent and holy man out of their pride.

Though God shepherds us today through His sacred pastors, we are all called to participate in this shepherding of the Good Shepherd in our own unique way. We are called to lead those within our families, at work, at school, within our neighborhoods, social circles and in every other societal context. But too often we imitate these Pharisees by allowing our own selfishness and desire for self importance to interfere with our ability to put others first and love them with the Shepherd's heart.

Reflect, today, upon the calling you have received to lay down your life for others in imitation of the Good Shepherd. In order to imitate this love in the Heart of Christ, we must love without seeking love in return. Laying our lives down is an act of sacrificial love that enables us to look only at the needs of those around us. Pride and selfishness must disappear, and the good of the other must become our only goal. Reflect upon how well you do this, and pray that the Good Shepherd will use you to shepherd those in your life who need it the most.
